City of Waukeee Installs “Look for Traffic” Signs on Local Trails

Waukeee, Iowa— The City of Waukeee is taking a proactive approach to pedestrian and bicyclist safety with the installation of new “Look for Traffic” signs throughout the City. The yellow signs have been installed on trails at major intersections in Waukeee with the messages “Look Right for Traffic” or “Look Left for Traffic.” Waukeee Police Chief John Quinn said the City is trying to avoid accidents before they happen.

“It’s important that pedestrians, cyclists and drivers follow traffic laws,” Quinn said. “At some of Waukeee’s major intersections, drivers and pedestrians forget to watch out for each other. These signs are a gentle reminder for those using our trails to be aware of the traffic moving through intersections they cross.”

The sign installation began the week of May 11, 2015.

“Keeping our citizens safe is our number one priority,” Quinn said. “We also want to keep visitors who utilize our trails safe. The ‘Look for Traffic’ signs will have a positive impact in our City.”
